would call him on the phone, he might be able to give him some information about this woman Mrs. Easton. His telephone number is Bayonne 149.

Operative interviewed a Mr. Kerney who conducts a butcher shop at 188 Broadway. He remembered this woman who had a store across the street from his shop and stated that she had at one time made some gingham dresses for his wife. Outside of that he never knew very much about her business, in fact he can't remember the woman.

Operative then went to search for a house at 27 East First Street and could find no house at this address. The only houses on the street were number 5 and number 48. I then went to number 273 Avenue C and I learned that the Williams family had lived there and were dispossessed a number of years ago. In making inquiries around the neighborhood, I learned that they had moved to 51 Avenue C.

Operative then went to this address and found that the Williams family were also dispossessed from this house in December, 1925. The woman who is the present occupant of the house rents furnished rooms. She stated she did not know this Williams woman but she had heard a lot about her as two men came to rent a room from her one day and they told her that they had many a good time in this house when the Williams woman was a landlady. She had heard that Mrs. Williams kept a very disorderly house and on several occasions there were fights, and one time the police were called in. A man had searched for his wife and received information that she was in this house. He tried to gain entrance and was refused admittance and, therefore, broke several windows in the front of the building. His wife escaped out of the back end of the house. The man was arrested but I could not learn his name so that I could not look up the arrest in the police headquarters. I made inquiries at a grocery store across the street
